DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2, 5, 13 and 16 recite the limitation "the portable device". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2, 5, 7, 12-13, 16-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bui, US. Pat. No. 6,763,478.

5. Claims 1, 5, 12, 16 and 19, Bui teaches an apparatus having a CPU and a bridge controller [abstract, Fig. 2], wherein the improvement comprises;

a clock generator [clock generator 50 of Fig. 2] generating a first clock signal for the CPU operating in one of AC power mode or battery power mode [abstract, col. 5, lines 16-37], and a second clock signal for the bridge controller, operating in one of AC power mode or battery power mode, wherein first and second clock signals are two distinct clock signals outputted by the clock generator and have different frequencies [abstract, col. 4, line 58 thru col. 5, line 36].

6. Claims 2 and 13, Bui teaches the bridge controller controls a clock speed of a bus for data communication among a plurality of peripheral devices of the portable device [Fig. 2].

7. Claims 7 and 17, Bui teaches the first clock signal has a higher frequency ... [abstract, col. 4, line 58 thru col. 5, line 36].

8. Claim 18, Bui teaches the first and fourth clock signals have the same frequency [abstract, col. 4, line 58 thru col. 5, line 36].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3-4, 6, 8-11 and 14-15, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bui, US. Pat. No. 6,763,478.

10. Claims 3-4, 6 and 14-15, Bui fails to teach a phase locked loop (PLL) receiving the first clock signal for the CPU and adjusting the first clock signal based on one of AC power mode and battery power mode.

Official notice is taken that both the concept and the advantages of using a phase locked loop (PLL) for adjusting clock signals are old and well known in the art (as admitted by Applicant, see Fig. 1 of the instant application).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Preston to have a phase locked loop (PLL), because it locks to desired frequencies in a stable manner.

11. Claim 8, 10 Bui teaches the PLL increases the frequency of the second clock signal ... [abstract, col. 4, line 58 thru col. 5, line 36].

12. Claim 9, 11, Bui teaches the second PLL decreases the frequency of the second clock signal in a battery power mode ... [abstract, col. 4, line 58 thru col. 5, line 36].
